

Frequently Asked Questions for #NADTA2020

1) Is the conference 100% virtual? How do I access the conference?

YES! We are 100% virtual this year and all conference offerings are happening on Zoom. Review our "Know Before You Go/Virtual Tips" for important information about our community guidelines, Zoom best practices, and more!

Registered attendees will receive a personalized email from our team on Wednesday 11/4/20 to access the conference. This email will include the links you need to access your personalized conference experience and will be sent to the email you used for your registration. Please do NOT share these links or forward them to a different email, as they will only work for you when opened from the email account you used to register for the conference. If you have any trouble with this please contact our office.

2) What time zone will the conference sessions be in?

All conference events, workshops, and performances will be listed in Pacific Standard Time. (However, your conference page will have other timezones listed for your convenience.)

3) Will all conference sessions be recorded? How can I access the recordings?

YES. All conference offerings will be automatically recorded in their entirety. Given that the conference is our community's premiere opportunity during the year for professional development and education, the purpose of the recordings is to expand access to these offerings and continue to expand this knowledge beyond the weekend.

We will be making these recordings available to those who have registered for the full conference, and to our members after the conference. (HOWEVER, please remember that you can ONLY receive CE's when you engage with the presentation LIVE - we cannot offer on-demand CEs at this time for viewing the recordings after the conference. See the CE Credits page for more info.)

NOTE: Please be patient with us! We do not yet know how long it will take to render and load the multiple days worth of videos - our office will announce more information about this as soon as possible.

4) Can I record my own presentation or a workshop I'm attending?

NO. Attendees and presenters may not record the workshops or conference events on their own. We will make the recordings available when they have been completed.

As a reminder, these recorded conference offerings will be available to our members and to those who registered for the full conference. These recordings will not be able to be shared and cannot be utilized to obtain CE's. Please reach out to the office if you have questions about this.

5) Am I required to have my camera on during the whole conference?

No. It is not a requirement to have your camera on throughout the conference. However doing so will strongly support your engagement with the community and with material in the workshops and offerings, many of which continue to be experiential as with in-person conferences. As we mention in our Community Guidelines, if you need a moment of privacy, please feel free to take it, but we encourage you to return and engage as fully as possible when you can.

We may take screenshots/photos of our community engaging in this “next act for drama therapy” in some of the workshops, particularly the community gatherings like the membership meeting, etc. We will let folks know before this happens so you can decide if you'd like to participate.

6) Can I change the workshop I signed up for originally?

Yes. When you receive your personalized conference information (which will be sent out to you for each day you are registered for throughout the conference), you will receive the links to all of the workshop offerings that day. As with in-person conferences, if you are feeling inspired to try something new or different, you are free to do so! However, please don't “Zoom hop”, as this will impact your participation and be distracting to presenters and other attendees, and may impact your eligibility to obtain CEs if you are not in the workshop throughout (just like the in-person conferences).

7) What happened to the workshop I had previously signed up for?

As with any conference, there may have been some changes to the conference program along the way. If you are looking for a particular workshop that is no longer on the schedule, it may have been cancelled since your initial registration.

You will have all of the links for the various offerings for that day and time, so please feel free to engage in a different offering during that time slot, or join us in the networking Zoom room!

(If you are a presenter and you do not see your workshop on the schedule and it should be, please contact the office immediately.)

8) How do I get my CE's?

Please see the information on our CE Credits page.

9) How can I network with other folks at the conference?

We have a special Zoom room dedicated to networking! Please see your conference schedule page for the links - this room will be open from the morning until the evening "dinner break" and will have breakout rooms for various topics. We encourage you to drop in anytime or bring a few friends to talk with other attendees about your experience and to get to know some new folks!

10) What if I have other questions about #NADTA2020?

If you have any questions anytime during the conference, please email our Office Team at office@nadta.org.

During conference hours you can also call the Office at (888) 416-7167.